

Junior College For Area Studied By State Board

BOISE, April 20 (AP)—The state board of education considered at length—but deferred final action Saturday on questions of formation of a junior college district in Twin Falls county and a four-year curriculum for Lewis-Clark normal school. But board members raised a number of questions about formation of the junior college district, proposed for the Castleford, Silver and Buhl school districts. Members individually also expressed doubt that it would be wise to try to offer a four-year curriculum at Lewis-Clark with the appropriation provided by 1963 legislature.

Era Hawley, board chairman, said both questions would receive further deliberation. The group seeking a junior college and for an answer, no later than mid-May, may seek a decision before July 1 on creation of the district.

Hawley said the board expects to reach its decisions on April 23 at a session there.

John Hephworth, Buhl, the spokesman, said plans for the formation of the junior college district for the school year at Buhl, were there to meet private school, Southern Idaho.

He said the district would have to expand by annexation of adjoining areas in the east end of Twin Falls county, including Payette, Jerome, and Canyon counties.

A rival group is working for a junior college in the Twin Falls area. Hawley said they had not yet submitted their case, but could also be heard before there is any decision.

Hephworth said the Twin Falls school board has indicated it would include the area in the district, and the final location of the

Interest Is High in Rupert Liquor Vote

RUPERT, April 20—A record number of voters registered Tuesday's liquor-by-the-drink election here, spokesman for the Rupert city clerk's office said. At 504 new registrations had been received to add to the 800 voters already registered. The 1,300 total is a record, according to the spokesman. If passed Tuesday, the council will issue permits to three establishments for sale of liquor under state statutes, which limit one public house license to every 1,500 people. In 1947 and 1957, the issue was brought to a vote and was defeated by about 700 votes each time. About 700 voters participated in each election.

The election was set in motion several weeks ago by the city council with 20 signatures on each petition. In the past few days it was reported an anonymous telephoner polled Rupert citizens asking if they were or against the measure.

"There have been reports that the state police are very greatly concerned with the possibility of government-financed plants involving in the potato industry," Sen. Len Sandel told W.H. L. Batt, Jr., area redevelopment administration head, Saturday.

"According to information furnished me by Idaho potato growers and processors, the frozen food industry presently is not in a position to invest at low interest by the area redevelopment administration to construct potato processing plants in Maine, Maryland, Minnesota and Wisconsin," Senator Jordan explained.

Anderson was a suspect in a murder case in Idaho. He has been held for trial since the airman's body had been exonerated by civil authorities. Another man confessed.

The spokesman said the Justice department had found "no violation of federal criminal statutes."

"That wording was in a letter sent out from the department of justice to the state legislature," Anderson had asked, and several members of congress had asked the Justice department for an investigation.

The full text of the letter was not available immediately, but the Justice department spokesman said, "It will be necessary to credit employment to the state legislature."

"Failure to clarify this will add to the present chaotic situation for the public schools," they declared.

The action came at the concluding session of a two-day meeting of the state superintendents' association.

A leader in the legislature, Rep. Harold Show, R., Latah, has called for a special session for the same reason.

But Gov. Robert E. Bogle has indicated he doesn't believe it is necessary, noting that the legislature voted a public school aid bill. However, he said he remained free to release it if they wanted to do so.

"We all want to put unemployed Americans to work, but it's not feasible to put new people in business to create employment while the same time putting people out of work at established businesses," he said.

"It's a hard choice," he said.

"The area development administration is to fulfill the purpose envisioned by the act itself, it will be necessary to credit employment to the state legislature."

"The state legislature is not now having to lay off people because of the lack of people of that particular community," he said.

"I urge you to consider carefully the effect on Idaho workers before you decide to establish new plants in an already overdeveloped industry," Senator Jordan concluded.

Pastor Released From City Jail

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 20.—The Rev. Martin Luther King, who was released from jail Saturday, was due to lead a demonstration march in this racialist city.

King, another Negro leader, was released after a 10 pm, almost an hour after Negroes were arrested in downtown racial demonstrations.

Jordan Chief Quits During Pact Riots

AMMAN, Jordan, April 20 (UPI)—Prime Minister Samir Rifai resigned Saturday night in the face of violent popular demonstrations demanding that he join the budding union of Egypt, Iraq and Syria.

King Hussein accepted the resignation and asked Rifai to continue in office on a caretaker basis until a new government is formed.

The fate of Rifai's government was sealed in a parliamentary debate in which 32 members in the 60-seat body rose and attacked him. Most of those Jordanian Rifai's supporters joined the proposed expanded version of President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic.

King Hussein named Rifai's successor less than a month ago in a move that was seen as more favorably disposed toward the currents of Arab unity sweeping out of the Cairo talks of Egypt, Syria, and Iraq. Jordan's prime minister spoke earlier of "the need to keep up our efforts to help the problems of Arab unity."

Convicts Hold Guard, Bargain for His Life

HOUSTON, Tex., April 20 (UPI)—Astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper, Jr.'s orbital flight plan calls for him to spend nearly 45 minutes in space, commanding China and Tibet.

The flight map, prepared for the manned spaceflight, issued by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration center, shows Cooper will cross Chinese territory seven times during his 34-hour 22-orbit flight.

Cooper's flight is set for mid-May.

Cooper's crossing of communist territory marks the first American orbital flight to seek an orbital change in U.S. history. It will be the longest time he will be in orbit, space officials said.

The election was set in motion several weeks ago by the city council with 20 signatures on each petition. In the past few days it was reported an anonymous telephoner polled Rupert citizens asking if they were or against the measure.

No Violation Found in Airman Case

WASHINGTON, April 20 (UPI)—Idaho school superintendents Saturday called for a special session of the legislature to consider legislation to seek more tax money at the local level before July 1.

The superintendents and the lawmakers should also change the law so that any levy above the present $1.00 per ton of potatoes to seek more tax money at the local level before July 1.

Kennedy Launches Salvage Plan to Save Laos Neutrals

WASHINGTON, April 20 (UPI)—President Kennedy launched an urgent diplomatic salvage operation today to save neutral Laos from collapsing under red pressure. Kennedy held a strategy session of the national security council on Laos during the morning amid reports that military superior communist forces are wiping out neutral Laos by neutralism led by neutralist Gen. Kong Le. The White House meeting delayed somewhat the President's departure on a speechmaking trip to Boston. Kennedy set a follow-up meeting of the top U.S. strategic group for Monday, when the administration says Laos situation will be considered again.

After the council meeting, it was decided that:

1. Secretary of State Dean Rusk promptly called to the state department the ambassadors of India, Canada and Poland, and the members of the three-nation committee on communism, which is supposed to follow last year's Geneva agreement for an independent, neutral Laos. The envoy was Russ Duran.

2. Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman will leave Sunday for Paris and London to talk with high government officials. The British and French are members of the 14-nation Geneva accord.

3. The U.S. ambassador to Thailand—is cutting short his current Washington visit for a return trip to Bangkok, returning to Bangkok Saturday.

4. The U.S. military mission to Thailand is cutting short its current Washington visit for a return trip to Bangkok Saturday.

Mrs. John V. Walker, retiring president, said the officers who attended the league members agreed to study areas of the state's 31-year-old constitution not covered in a study commented by the league in 1961, when the previous biennial convention was held, and based on the league's proposed publication, "A Look at Idaho's Constitution—Then and Now."

Other action taken during the convention included the adoption of the 1963 budget and resolution commanding confirmation of a four-state league committee on Columbia basin water resources. Leagues in Idaho, Washington, Oregon and Montana are involved in the project.

Delegates voted to recommend to Gov. Robert E. Smylie the proclamation of U.S. Constitution day this fall.

Buhl Election Set Tuesday On 2 Issues

BUHL, April 29 — Buhl residents will vote to 10 a.m. Saturday to cast ballots on two separate propositions—one for a $174,000 issue for sewage treatment facilities, the other a $65,000 bond issue to replace the main drain in the city limits in the east part of town.

The Idaho state board of education has given the city of Buhl 60 days to have under way construction a sewage treatment plant which will be built in an open ditch north west of Buhl, which empties into the Snake River, making a serious pollution problem.

An official pointed out if the state bond issue fails to pass the state health department has the authority if necessary to move into the city, causing a great deal of expense and dissatisfaction among taxpayers, which would cost taxpayers more money.

On the $65,000 bond issue of this point out it is necessary to replace the existing double sewer trunk line between the city and the river reservoir.

One of the present lines is a wooden line installed more than 50 years ago, and the other is more recent but is of poor quality, which will deteriorate and cause black patches to appear in the water system.

This bond issue will replace the present lines with more than 10,000 feet of 14-inch cast iron pipe.

Voters in ward one will cast their votes at Dammen Implement company, 220 Broadway avenue, and in ward two at the fire station in the city hall. Assisting with the election will be Mr. and Mrs. John DeBartolo, Mr. and Mrs. Muriel McNamee, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harger, Mr. and Mrs. Muriel McNamee, Mr. and Mrs. Emily Fraser, judges; Frank L. Atkinson, constable.

In ward three will cast their votes at Dammen Implement company, 220 Broadway avenue, and in ward four at the fire station in the city hall. Assisting with the election will be Mr. and Mrs. John DeBartolo, Mr. and Mrs. Muriel McNamee, Mr. and Mrs. Emily Fraser, judges; Frank L. Atkinson, constable.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON, April 20—For the next several months, the state department will observe with considerable anxiety the new-formed United Arab Republic's public to try to discover if it is merely a political alliance or an authentic experiment in true Arab unity.

Diplomats here on the whole wish Egypt, Syria and Iraq well in their new political project. The Arab unit could bring order out of the chaos that is the Middle East, by putting an end to the bickering in an area that for so long has been weak and divided and whose inter-state feuds have nourished almost constant revolution.

MAKES SENSE—In an era of regional organization and cooperation among Arab nations, the new Arab state makes sense just as the United States breeds cooperation in Europe and in Latin America, so it is benevolently interested in the success of the new Arab state. Any move to dissolve the grievances that have kept the Arab world apart for centuries could be a threat to world peace.

The big "shu'ub" is Egypt's dynamic and unpredictable—Nasser. On the whole, the social and economic theories he is trying to force through in this troublesome area are welcomed here. For one thing, the group that was most responsible for Syria's fall in 1961 was a failure largely because Nasser refused to give the Syrians the measure of autonomy they demanded, and insisted on treating Syria as a northern province of Egypt.

Egypt and Syria were equals in that participation in the new entity was equal. A situation like that could not be tolerated by Syria any more than a similar setup with the United States would be tolerated by Charlie de Gaulle. Now the world has been assured that the three states will be welded into one nation, with one flag and one nationality. Presumably, this means equality for the citizens of three countries.

TEMPATION TO RULE—But Nasser remains Nasser and remains far from equal. A situation like that could not be tolerated by Syria any more than a similar setup with the United States would be tolerated by Charlie de Gaulle.

Now the world has been assured that the three states will be welded into one nation, with one flag and one nationality. Presumably, this means equality for the citizens of three countries.

The U. S. still has a big stake in Nasser's success, despite the fact the late John F. Kennedy had the Soviet Union take over and take over Asian land. He is getting about 150 million dollars a year in economic aid from us, and we are considering joining a consortium of aiding Asian nations to launch a program designed to help Egypt's per capita national income of $400 a year.

China does not relish the idea of discovering that he has failed to finance Nasser's progress to the role of dictator of the Arab world. It's not the money this time, either. It's the principle of the thing—the principle of world peace.

The U. S. still has a big stake in Nasser's success, despite the fact the late John F. Kennedy had the Soviet Union take over and take over Asian land. He is getting about 150 million dollars a year in economic aid from us, and we are considering joining a consortium of aiding Asian nations to launch a program designed to help Egypt's per capita national income of $400 a year.

Many doctors refuse to drive in excess of normal speeds when called on an emergency. They reason they can help no one if injured or killed in an accident. They also are well aware their value diminishes if they arrive in such an emotional state as to be unable to treat a patient normally.

The action in Salt Lake City seems reasonable and prudent. It should have a good deal of value beyond police ambulance calls.

The speed of all emergency vehicles should be gauged to the traffic they encounter when called on an emergency. The object should be to arrive at the necessary place as quickly as possible under the circumstances and without taking unnecessary risks or creating additional hazards. A house could burn down if the fire truck were involved in an accident, but additional damage that could be attributed to another three-minute delay might be negligible. Likewise, the ambulance called to the scene of an accident can't help accident victims if it piles up half a mile away.

In a great many cases, haste does, indeed, make waste.

USELESS PROTEST

No one is overly fond of paying taxes, but the federal income tax evades the most protest of any. From time to time, a taxpayer must file an income tax return, but neglects saying he also must pay his tax. So the taxpayer files his income tax return, but refuses to send a check. Perhaps, he feels better about it and the income tax people may have been inconvenienced somewhat, but the gesture is sort of empty.

The Rev. K. F. Boterman, San Anselmo, Calif., is one who protests. Until this year, he has included a note with his income tax return paying under protest "but part of his income tax which is levied for preparation for war." This year he went a little further. He refused to pay off per cent of his income tax, figuring that amount would be used for "cruelly planned machinery to kill millions of human beings."

The Rev. Mr. Boterman, at least has the satisfaction of adding a little inconvenience for the Internal revenue service. However, if he has a bank account, he will discover the IRS merely helps itself to whatever he owes. That's what happened a few years ago when J. Bracken Lee, ex-governor of Utah, refused to pay his income tax.

These people who have the courage of their convictions are cheered by the millions who don't. Yet what purpose is served by the protest? All it can possibly accomplish is the satisfaction derived by the individual and even that satisfaction is likely to be illusory, particularly when he discovers the internal revenue service has helped itself to his funds in the bank. If he has no bank account but owns property, then a lien will be filed against the property. And if the taxpayer has no bank account and no property he also probably has no tax liability.

There's only one way around paying income taxes, other than having no income. That's repeal of the 16th amendment to the Constitution. Anyone who expects the amendment to be repealed is going to have a long wait.

Emergency Danger

Normal traffic conditions in most communities are sufficiently hectic without adding any emergencies. In larger communities and metropolitan areas "normal" traffic can approach an emergency. Add to the confused situation a fire or an accident that results in police cars and fire trucks hurrying through traffic and the result can be impossible, besides being unduly dangerous.

In Salt Lake City, the danger from emergency runs by the police ambulance has reached such proportions that Police Chief Ralph C. Knudson arbitrarily limited speeds of the ambulance to no more than 10 miles per hour above the posted speed limit.

It is an area in which more thought is possible. An emergency vehicle headed toward an accident, fire, armed robbery or some similar incident isn't going to help the public by being involved in an accident. Likewise, a doctor on an emergency run isn't going to be of any use if he is injured or killed in an accident.

Even though emergency vehicles use sirens and flashing red lights, such warning devices do not always clear a safe path. An obstruction, of which there are plenty in nearly any city, can block out sight of the red light. The picture of many drivers using car radios, with windows rolled up, can block out any sounds of a siren. Yet, the driver is wrong who causes an accident because he neither heard the siren nor saw the red light. The other driver being wrong doesn't help the police car or fire truck complete its mission.

Many doctors refuse to drive in excess of normal speeds when called on an emergency. They reason they can help no one if injured or killed in an accident. They also are well aware their value diminishes if they arrive in such an emotional state as to be unable to treat a patient normally.

The action in Salt Lake City seems reasonable and prudent. It should have a good deal of value beyond police ambulance calls.

The speed of all emergency vehicles should be gauged to the traffic they encounter when called on an emergency. The object should be to arrive at the necessary place as quickly as possible under the circumstances and without taking unnecessary risks or creating additional hazards. A house could burn down if the fire truck were involved in an accident, but additional damage that could be attributed to another three-minute delay might be negligible. Likewise, the ambulance called to the scene of an accident can't help accident victims if it piles up half a mile away.

In a great many cases, haste does, indeed, make waste.

MINNESOTA'S CLOSE ELECTION

Minnesota's gubernatorial election finally has been settled and the candidate with the greatest number of votes, as determined by the canvassing apparatus and the courts, Gov. Karl Rolvaag, the Democratic victor now has assumed his office.

The day was embarrassing to the candidates to the election machinery, to the canvassing boards, to the courts and to the citizens. Yet, in retrospect, the state of Minnesota has occasion to congratulate itself. The complete canvass of all election returns, including the most corruptible, ballot stuffing or other deliberate irregularity, Minnesota can say, with more evidence than the citizens of any other jurisdiction that their election was honest.

The business of the state government probably was not settled until the publication of Elmer L. Anderson's term. The provision for the extension of an official's term until his successor qualifies has a new endorsement by demonstration. There was no vacuum in the direction of the state's affairs.

Perhaps new machinery can be perfected to expedite the election of the state's governor as easily contested as this was, but the task of carefully going over the results of a statewide election is not a small one. On the whole, the Minnesota system functioned well. There were no departures from the plain, laid-down rules of election, and the process was conducted and methodically dealt with every challenge.

There seems to be complete confidence in the electorate that the officials involved functioned well and that the courts performed their duties with fairness. Such a close, close contest, however, provides a lesson to all.

The same is true of the citizens of Minnesota in a difficult and trying situation is a tribute to the spirit of self-help and maturity and to their faith in democratic government.—WILLIAM POST.

HONORARY IN NEW YORK

A trial in New York City has featured the playing of a recorded conversation in which three men counted and discussed money they allegedly were preparing to deliver for a bribe. The intended recipient, the prosecution charged, was an up-and-coming member of Congress, a national hero.

This sort of electronic evidence is becoming more and more a factor in court proceedings. To a still greater degree, where the results of wiretapping are not directly admissible, they give the prosecution from whom they are able to pick the witnesses.

But obviously there need be no limits on police invasions of privacy. And the uses of electronic listening are not limited to the police. Manufacturers of concealed listening devices report an extensive market not only for official purposes (as counter-espionage) but also by private detectives and the security forces of commercial firms.

Careful establishment of the rights of individuals in this area is important. For "the right of the people to be secure in their persons, papers and effects" includes security from wiretaps and hidden microphones.—CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR.

CONCERNED

Word comes from Washington, D. C., that Congressmen are worried, in private, about his old education bill, at least, for this session.

At an informal gathering in the capital, the President cracked a joke at his own expense. He had finally concluded, he told a group of friends, that the school-age legislation is constitutional. And what's wrong?

"Well," said the President, "it doesn't have a prayer."—The Oregonian.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, April 20—

When congress returns after the current recess, the battle will be rejoined over foreign aid, with the report of the Foreign Aid Commission holding sway.

Those who want to cut back on those who want to cut back and those who want to hold the line, at not less than 4 billion dollars.

Four members of the Senate foreign aid committee are similar to that held by Gen. Marcello Chilios, Clay.

While the Clay report contains only one innocuous sentence on how the population problem complicates foreign aid, the question of aid to India, Pakistan and nearly 100 million people who haven't been able to halt the advance of communism should promises to come up again in acute form.

A book already on sale in the book stores of the world is the latest in the aftermath of the controversy over the Draper committee recommendations on population control, an anomaly in the government's effort to assist countries on population growth.

Draper, an investment banker, and the other members of the committee were convinced that the population explosion in underdeveloped areas was largely a matter of public opinion. That earlier committee, which recommended a prolonged dispute in a sensitive area of public opinion.

News Around Idaho

BOISE, April 20 (AP)—The burden of land management today amounts to $100,000 for bids for lease of 20 acres of government-owned phosphate lands located 14 miles east of Soda Springs in Caribou county. Bid opening has been set for 3 p.m. May 16 in the U.S. land office here. Michael T. Solan, land office manager, said a minimum of $4 an acre has been set for bids.

BOISE, April 20 (AP)—The Idaho-YMCA—Youth-legislature delegation Saturday afternoon after taking action on 27 bills and giving final approval to nine, one of which was vetoed by Gov. Henry K. Brown, voted to accept the so-called right-to-work bill which would have prohibited the establishment of union shops in the state. In his veto message, Brown said he felt the law was unconstitutional and was an improper delegation of authority to the department of labor. He also pointed out that the people of Idaho have rejected a similar proposal.

IDAHO FALLS, April 20 (AP)—Delegates to the 27th annual meeting of Idaho Credit Union League Saturday noon were apprised of the services furnished credit unions by Credit Union National association. BOISE, April 20 (AP)—The Idaho attorney general's office ruled Friday that so-called "remote" schools must submit their average daily attendance figures to their respective districts for the purpose of determining the district's state aid allocation. The ruling was given in response to a question from the Idaho School Distribution formula enacted by the 1961 legislature. The section provides that elementary schools located 10 miles and secondary schools located 15 miles from another school shall be allowed to participate in the state and county funding programs as though they were independently operated by their districts. The attorney general's question was whether the attendance at such schools should be included in the attendance of the district as a whole for the purpose of determining the appropriate state aid factor.

BOISE, April 20 (AP)—Idaho public school business managers formed a state organization here Friday and elected D. H. Beary, Boise president. They also prepared a constitution for the group—the Idaho School Business Officials' association. Other officers are Robert Keating, Boise Falls, vice president, and John Glasby, Mountain Home, secretary-treasurer.

BOISE, April 20 (AP)—A Colorado doctor and research specialist said Friday the time is coming when auto manufacturers will be forced to change engine designs so cars won't produce harmful air-pollution substances. Dr. Robert L. Johnson, a nationally known authority on what substances are now a chief contributing factor to chronic respiratory diseases—He listed auto exhausts, coal burning furnaces and incinerators, in that order, as the chief causes of air pollution in urban centers. Mitchell, who heads the World Health Organization, also spoke to the group, complimenting its efforts to try to encourage young people to take up smoking in their advertising. He said cigarette ads take the view "that you can't be sophisticated unless you smoke."

REXBURG, April 20 (AP)—Sherrie Bran, a student nurse from Rexburg, is Miss Pick's College of 1963. She won over 10 other pretty young girls in the contest Friday night. Jean Price, also Rexburg, and Gena Pieper, Rigby, were the No. 1 and 2 runners-up.

Judgment of Area Court Is Reversed

BOISE, April 20 (AP) — Idaho's supreme court has reversed a decision by Jerome County District Judge Clinton W. Ward in a Jerome county damage case, ruling that Ward erred in his instructions to the jury.

The unanimous decision written by Justice Joseph J. McPadden which reversed Judge Ward was handed down in a damage action brought against John Pigg, Boise, a truck driver and employee of James Trummler, Burley, and the state.

Pigg brought the suit as a result of a car-truck collision Sept. 15, 1953, near Jerome. The trial court had ruled in favor of the truck driver and dismissed the state as a defendant. Pigg appealed and the high court reversed the decision favoring the trucker and Trummler and the damages of the state were set aside and the case remanded for a new trial.

McPadden also wrote a majority decision which affirmed.

Twin Falls citizens had signed an order by Mr. and Mrs. William Schick, Kamiah, to convey a 6-acre farm located near Filer to Mr. and Mrs. B. W. McCandless, Filer. The high court also affirmed the trial court's decision granting the McCandlesses $7000 damage for the Schicks' refusal to "perform under the contract for the sale of the farm property."

The McCandlesses had brought the suit to specifically demand a written agreement from the two families for the sale of the farm and for damages for breach of that contract.

A real estate broker had arranged for the sale in 1952 and the two families had entered into a written agreement. However, in July of that year the Schicks withdrew the broker's authority to sell the farm and the broker and a number of others listed it in the listing. Subsequently, the Schicks leased the farm to another person.

The Schicks defended their action on the grounds the tract was not definite in its terms and therefore not binding. The trial court ruled otherwise and the high court upheld it.

Public Health Work Listed By Director

HAILEY, April 20.—Dr. Luther Thompson, Twin Falls, medical director of the state's central Idaho district health unit, told members of the Blaine County public health association yesterday night that Blaine County is getting many services from the health district even though it is not paying its fair share.

Blaine County currently contributes $4,886 for its share in the seven-county health district, while the other six counties are all paying their full share, the director stated.

The official said he felt Blaine County residents did not understand the services provided by the health district and he appreciated an opportunity to present the program.

Testing programs for hearing, speech and other deficiencies are conducted throughout Blaine County schools and Mrs. Evelyn Trembley, county health agent, assisted by Mrs. Mary Ann Knight, public supervisor nurse for the health district.

Other services provided, Dr. Thompson said, are a sanitarian and immunization clinics.

Mrs. Noel Pratt, president of the Blaine County school board, said yesterday she will speak to Gov. Jack Reinch, Blaine County commissioner, indicated he will attend the district board of health meeting in Jerome next week.

Mark Steffens, director of mental health, Boise, also spoke. He pointed out if a county produces a workable mental health plan through the National Mental Health Foundation, it would provide a grant if the plan is acceptable.

Mrs. Jan Merrill, Boise, school health specialist, spoke on the prevention of mental disabilities in grade school children and not waiting until they are in high school or grown.

Mrs. Pratt was elected to represent the association at the state Mental Health Association annual convention April 25-27. It was announced Mental Health week will be April 23-May 4.

On May 2 members of the Blaine County association and the local Nurses club at the Hailey high school will visit State Hospital south, Blackfoot.

It was announced the number of ship campers on May 15 and 16 will be in charge of the Gannett, Pichaboo area and Mrs. Louise Rathee, Hailey, vice president, in charge for the Hailey-Ketchum area.

Twenty persons attending the meeting were Lester Roberts, Hailey high school principal, and Ray Ketchum, Ketchum high school principal; Dr. Scott Earle and Dr. Grant Hawkes.

HOBBY SHOW EXHIBIT by Stanley Vandembark, including paintings of wildlife on burlap, was arranged by Mrs. Charles Beymer, hobby show director, at the 12th Annual Hobby show held from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday at the Episcopal Church of the Ascension. The show was sponsored by the Episcopal Youth group to finance group projects. (Times-News photo)

Report Given On Broadford Silver Mine

HAILEY, April 20.—The exploration program at the Silver Mine, Broadford, is proving that the ore extends farther to the east than previously mined, with more promising ground in that direction, thus those at the mine believe all indications point to continued success as the drift being worked on, there approaches virgin ground, reports Joe A. Snelson, president of the company.

The mine is being worked by federal resources corporation. In a letter to the stockholders, F. T. Pratt, president, the mine owner, says the company has made a good start in the mining of the best ore shoots that has been developed on the Queen veins. The ore shoot, which has been developed 140 feet from the 400-foot level contains areas of good high grade ore.

Because of the thickness of the ore and its position in the undeveloped portion of the mine, the company stands to accomplish a sizable tonnage as development continues.

Work on the 700-foot level also has been started. For example, as the west drift on the South Queen vein has intersected an ore shoot, it is believed to be the downward extension of the one developed on the 400-foot level.

Equipment Is Given Hospital

HAILEY, April 20.—Through the donations of civic organizations, lodges and individuals of the Hailey area, a Porta-Lift has been supplied the Blaine county hospital.

Mrs. Ray McCoy, president of the Hospital auxiliary, which sponsored the endeavor, notified Mrs. Lee Reynolds, supervisor of the hospital, today that the badly needed equipment will be delivered in a short time.

GENEALOGICAL UNIT TO HOLD ELECTION HERE

OFFICERS of the South Central Idaho chapter, Idaho Genealogical society, will be elected during the meeting at 8 p.m., Saturday in the Idaho Power company auditorium.

Mrs. Snelson, 65, Filer, died Thursday in a Blackfoot hospital of a long illness.

He was born Jan. 12, 1898, in Delta, Colorado, and came to Filer in 1906. He worked as a cattlemen in the Filer area until he retired. He was a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving are a brother, Kenneth, of Ririe, two sisters, Mrs. Anna Chapman, Kimberly; Mrs. W. L. Starz, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Herbert Nelson, Filer.

SOX NIP DETROIT IN 15; COLTS TIP L.A. 3

Mejias Snaps 0-6 Performance to Get Winning Run

BOSTON, April 20 (AP)—Roman Mejias, who had gone 0-for-6, smashed a two-run double, and Boston upstaged Detroit's own 15th inning rally for a wild 4-3 victory today. The 4½-hour battle tied the season's major league record for most innings. Three singles, one of them foul for a run by Chuck Schilling, and a force play preceded the winning blow by Mejias.

The Cuban was hitting .001 when he belted off a Sox celebration on the field which made it look as if they'd just won the world series.

In the top half of the inning, the Tigers' Billy Bruton broke a 1-1 tie with a two-run, two-out single.

A wild pitch by Tiger starter Jim Johnson was the only reason Detroit was in the game at all. It enabled Schilling to score in the sixth inning. Bunting went out after working 12 frames.

The Tigers, however, recovered on Red Sox fireman Rick Radatz after two were out in the 15th. Gus Triandis, whose two batters brought in the previous run, hit the center field wall. Pinch hitter Whitley Herzog was walked intentionally, then pinch hitter Frank Kostro drew a pass quite intentionally, and he walked up the middle to blow through the middle. Detroit...
—Bates.

"This team has power," states Brian. "It has as good power as the '66 team. I think maybe better," he answers, a question looking back.

The 1961 team is the cherished memory of area fans. With Bobby Sanders, John Shook and the boys, the team was a favorite for them. The local fans never once considered the game over until the final out. Even then they seemed somewhat surprised the Cowboys couldn't come up with the win. It was winning really every time it was needed.

"Talk about power," adds Ross. "This Alex Johnson can't help but hit 40 home runs. Just last year he hit 35. He has never hit a ball over the centerfield wall. Johnson did it once last year and three times this year."

"And one of them never got more than a foot high," says his grandmother, added pitcher Jerry James, mentioning with his hand.

"Johnson will hit 45 home runs," predicts Bessey.

"None of the players was too upset about a .1-.15 minute change. The switch changed two men from the bench to the field, the Cowboys and replacing him with Randy McGrath. McGrath hit 20 home runs last year and is expected to be more potent in the Jaybird's.

Overall, the remaining players believe the fans will accept the team rapidly. One player already is the "hustle" leader of the club and both Bessey and Ross believe the fans will take notice to players like him. Nolan Reimann, one of the shorter players on the club, Campbell is the hard competitor who never quits and fights every inch of the way.

McGrath, however, is not so sure when the fans get to see him. He thinks some of the pitchers. "This will be the best staff the Phillies ever sent here," he says. "This park has been built for us. There's a lot around here that can throw like Jack Moltzenby. And he doesn't have much of a control problem, usually."

Manager Moore, Johnson, up to his neck in hustling through the time-consuming last-minute details, is loud in his appraisal. "I think our infield is the best in the camp," he says. "It's good defense, good speed, and better than most. This Tommese (third base) will drive in a lot of runs for us. Marshall shortstop is about the same. The infield is the best. The outfield is also very good power. We've got a good catcher in Flatt and Gossar will be a good second man for us as he picks up experience. He's a rock. He's a workhorse and should come around fast."

Actually, area fans are not expected to look back on these comments if they don't put out with the new team. They will be sold a bill of goods. These are the early opinions of the group and, of course, based on the expectation of everyone having an average to good year. But they believe the fact that they'll have no idea of what the other clubs have.

Manager Johnson feels strongly that the new team will be the championship based on what he has seen and heard about the league. It is possible some other organization loaded their Phoenician league affiliated with players actually in the league.

A personal note, however, leads us to believe most of the things we've heard and reported above.

At batting practice Saturday afternoon, the manager was bousing balls off and over all points of the park. It was very reminiscent of our first look at the power club of 1961. It was much more impressive than the practice we witnessed last year.

After making that comment to manager Johnson, he smiled and replied "wait 'till our power gets here."

This was somewhat facetious comment but bore a lot of truth. Seven of the players did not arrive in the plane Friday night and were due to arrive Saturday with their wives. Alex Johnson was one of those. All are due in Sunday night to make the trip to Buds for the Sunday opener.

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, SUNDAY, APRIL 21, 1968

Philippine Youngster Interrupts Mother at Church After Flight

People involved in missionary work are used to just about anything. The unexpected is expected.

Mrs. Juliet Ramos, of the Philippines, was in Magic Valley about two months ago with a missionary team headed by the Rev. Clyde V. Shields. The group had been active in Magic Valley giving services at various church services.

So one couple of Sundays ago, while Mrs. Ramos was singing, a small 5-year-old boy walked down the aisle of the First United Pentecostal church in Twin Falls. He was alone and hadn't seen him since departing from the Philippines in 1962.

Services were delayed while mother and son embraced. And then, wanting to know if another one of the members of the mission team, Buffina Rosendo, looked up from her talk to see her brother enter.

It was all part of a scheme hatched up by the Rev. Mr. Shields, the Rev. David Shebley, Blue Lakes Pentecostal church, and the Rev. J. L. Chandler, First United Pentecostal church, to unite some of the members of the mission team with their missing loved ones.

A casual bit of conversation led to the scheme to bring the duo from the Philippines. It seems Mrs. Ramos' husband had come back to the States as an outstanding minister in the Philippines and the Rev. Mr. Shields had converted the man.

The younger was a year old when his father died and Mrs. Ramos had to leave the Philippines to care for her son. The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Shebley concluded Mrs. Ramos would be happier if she could be united with her son for the balance of his life in America.

The Rev. Mr. Shebley appealed to his congregation to help raise the funds to bring the boy to the United States.

The congregation responded and ample funds were raised.

When the time came it became necessary for the Rev. Mr. Shields to return to the Philippines, so he got the project rolling from the other end.

When it came time to send the lad to see his mother, the Rev. Mr. Shebley called and informed the Rev. Mr. Chandler and the Rev. Mr. Shebley that the boy was on his way.

The Rev. Mr. Chandler and the Rev. Mr. Shebley then got the project from there and set up the plan to meet the boy at the airport and have the boy enter while his mother was singing. En route also was Miss Rosendo.

All three ministers pleaded guilty to the charge of "wacky," but each would do it again if necessary.

Both Rev. Mr. Chandler and the Rev. Mr. Shebley point out the whole thing would not have been possible if it were not for the generous people of Magic Valley who donated funds to make the reunion possible.

With the exception of the mother, and the sister and brother, there is no doubt that the people were repaid in full for their generosity, claims the Rev. Mr. Chandler.

The mission team usually appears dressed in native costumes. They have performed at a number of churches in Magic Valley and have appeared at area civic clubs.

The team increased its membership by taking a 5-year-old boy and a 22-year-old student.

According to the two local ministers, the mission team is an outstanding group. Perhaps the people of Magic Valley have made it more outstanding.

Backgrounds of Minico Exchange Students Vary

RUPERT, April 13—Midokka, a city of 30,000 and Larour from Cobalt high school's two for a large sheep ranch near Huntman, Australia.

In their exchange students appear. In the differences situation, the opportunity of the schools here and in his spending a year in America to country, Olesne pointed out that each course receiving more time of the country.

The boys are Arild Olesne from Norway and Arman Olesne from Northern Ontario.

Olesne said he was taking 12 different subjects in Norway, including each week, three classes of French, two classes of German, five classes of Norwegian, two of geography, five classes of chemistry, four classes of English, five classes of mathematics, two classes of world history, one class of choir and three of music.

The American side of the United States impressed Olesne, who said he didn't believe the people of America were as nice as they

SO BIG NOW, and only a baby, too. That seems to be the key way to introduce Suze, the Gibbon ape that is one of many pets of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Newell, route two, Filer. About five years old, the ape still is considered only a baby because the apes mature in about 10 years. Acquired when just a "tiny tot," Suze has worn tailored clothes all her life. ## Spider Monkey, Gibbon Ape Just Like Family Members at Filer

FILER, April 20.—When there is a man around you can tell it immediately, because Suze is all men—while the other is a spider monkey, she shy ones.

Both Suze and Cindy, the spider monkey, are pets of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Newell, route two. In fact mature until around 10 years they are really more than pets, and, so, must still be classed as either of them. Both have been at the report, "because the previous well was just not hot enough. So we decided to find another supply."

The new well was sunk on a piece of our property east of the resort, and we were pleased, to say the least, when we hit the

"The new water, when it reaches the ground, three miles from the well, is still too hot to use in the pool, so we're going to mix it with cold water to cool it down," he said. "Of course, for heating it will be used as is."

"From all indications the new source was struck in a lime formation, because although the water is mineralized there is no sulfur taste."

The manager points out the indoor pool is the largest in southern Idaho, being 84 by 144 feet. The building housing the pool is 170 by 110 feet and also covers 1,000 square feet of deck space. It is open seven days a week and complete water change occurs every 12 hours, the manager said.

The area is owned as a family venture by Doyle Silgar, the father, and William and Keith, the sons, all of whom are Standard service station is being completed on the grounds, which also boast picnic and trailer park areas, a restaurant, concession stand, boat dock, and the Bud and Mark marina, the largest in this section of the state.

"We are wondering how we happened to drill at the certain depths and hit water in the ground within a few feet of the surface of the Snake River, 13 miles west of Buhl. The new "hot" water is being pumped a distance of three miles to the resort, to be used in the swimming pool for heating, in the air conditioning units in buildings and cabins and for areas, he pointed out, this source has no odor and it comes out of the ground with a few feet of cold Salmon Falls creek. The temperature of the new well tests at 103 degrees F."

Their two pets are a bisharp spider monkey, on Mrs. Newell's lap, and a friendly Gibbon ape, which her husband is holding. They have had the pets nearly five years. They wear tailored clothes and the monkey answers to the name of Cindy while the ape is known as Suse. They live in a special cage at the Newell farm home and travel in another cage fitted into the family station wagon. The animals enjoy traveling.

Dam Breaks for Steel Price Increase During Past Week

NEW YORK, April 20 (UPI)—The down broke for steel price increases during the week.

The plug was pulled when U.S. Steel corporation, the nation's biggest producer joined in the selective pools and the relatively small Wheeling Steel corporation.

Big and small companies came tumbling after and soon the move had spilled through virtually the entire industry.

President Kennedy had indicated he had no intention of trying to limit the increases. He told the American Society of Newspaper Editors that he felt the steel companies had acted with "some restraint."

He expressed hope that steel-using industries particularly the automakers and the labor unions will exercise restraint to prevent inflation.

Kennedy had indicated after Wheeling's original action that selective increases would be acceptable.

The boosts averaged about three per cent with U.S. Steel posting the smallest ones. The increases covered less than 30 per cent of production.

The question remained to be answered in the wake of the price boosts. They included:

"Will there be a rise in prices of consumer goods using steel?"

With the White Steels and United States' increases it's doubtful.

Will wage-price stability be affected generally?

Most steel users said they were studying the new price schedules and it would be too early to tell what might happen.

The union remained silent. It can reopen its contract for wage negotiations May 1 and would be free to strike.

For far too early, also, to determine the effect on a wide range of wages and prices. Kennedy has said that what he wants to avoid is an inflationary spiral.

A steel industry publication, Iron Age, expressed the opinion that "Demand for steel is strong enough to sustain most increases."

Frederick Karpoff, chairman of American Telephone and Telegraph company, said the steel price rises "will not be good things that have happened to the economy. It could be a blessing in disguise."

He added that the fact that "President Kennedy stayed out" of the negotiations gave him confidence about business.

While interest was centered on the cascade of price boost announcements, steel production reached a record high in the third year in three years. Output during the week totaled 2,450,000 tons, up 21 per cent from the previous week. The industry operated at 90 per cent of its capacity.

Much of the heavy demand came from the automobile industry where an estimated 180,000 cars and vans were built during the week. This compares with 82,000 the previous week and 140,215 a year ago.

Steel continued heavy but the rate of gain over a year ago fell off somewhat. Delco delivered 210,000 cars in the first days of April, one per cent above a year ago, and a record for the period. However, in the first three months of this year sales were 10 per cent above a year ago.

Elsewhere in the economy, personal income, housing starts and industrial output rose.

Personal income advanced in March to an annual rate of

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people generally do.

Not only do they read; they cut out and show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples.

When people see an advertisement in print, they can compare designs . . . features . . . and prices of nationally known products and services. (And people do compare before they go out and buy.)

Advertising in print is a handy thing. You can check back; the message is still there even when your attention is distracted.

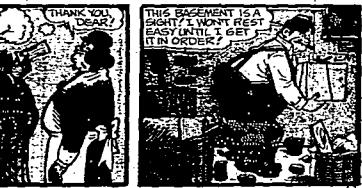

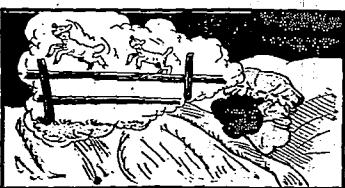

When you add it up, print advertising—the kind you read in this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales.

Don't you read before you buy?
